The health system comprises different subsystems with access linked to employment status. The contributory subsystem, funded by employers and employees, is mandatory for salaried workers and covers 47% of the population. The non-contributory subsystem (Seguro Popular-SP) covered 64% of the uninsured population in 2011 and has enabled some progress in access to services in poorer and rural regions and among the indigenous population, even though further improvements are possible. Out-of-pocket payments represent up to 49% of total health expenditure. The burden of some communicable diseases is high, and despite good progress towards meeting the health Millennium Development Goals, there are still challenges regarding maternal mortality and gender equality. There are various strategies for health workforce planning but no formal plan for human resources for health. There is important variation in the density of physicians among regions. The ratio of nurses to physicians is below the OECD average at 1.9. There are mechanisms for regulation and licensing health workforce that differ between types of health workers.

Top 10 causes of morbidity and mortality (DALYs)

Disability-adjusted life years (DALYs) quantify both premature mortality (YLLS) and disability (YLDs) within a population. The top 10 causes of DALYs are ranked from top to bottom in order of the number of DALYs they contribute in 2010. Bars going right show the percent by which DALYs have increased since 1990. Bars going left show the percent by which DALYs have decreased.
